Agreements Are Licenses Under U. S. Patents and Rights to Manufacture

VITAL WAR MATERIEL

Flexiglas and Ingredients of Synthetic Rubber Materials

President Roosevelt has directed the Department of Justice to proceed with two important anti-trust suits that had been halted as not in the public interest in wartime, it was learned today in press dispatches.

One of the firms involved is the Rohm & Haas Company, and a company spokesman issued a statement commenting on the action.

The suits, one against E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. and Rohm & Haas Company of Philadelphia, and the other against the Bendix Aviation Company, will be tried early next year in Newark, N. J.

It was ascertained that the President issued an order on July 13th that the prosecution should go ahead. Roosevelt acted, it was said in authoritative quarters, against the advice of the Army and Navy, which did not "acquiesce."

Alice Dunn Essig Will Be Wed To H. L. Poole

Mrs. Alice T. Dunn Essig, Sunbury Farm, Bristol Township, and H. Lawrence Poole, young Philadelphia engineer, will be married on Trenton, N. J., tomorrow by Mayor Andrew J. Duch, of that city.

Mrs. Essig and J. Richards Essig, society portrait painter, were divorced last year.

Essig, now in the army, is reported also to have married again, his fourth—but that could not be confirmed. Mrs. Essig said she had "heard the rumor" about Essig but couldn't verify it.

Since her divorce in June, 1943, the wealthy Mrs. Essig—who inherited half a million dollars in 1937—has been living quietly on her farm near here. She married Essig in Cape May in 1940 when she was 21 and he 35.

In February, 1942, she filed suit for divorce in Media, charging cruel and barbarous treatment. A few days later she had him arrested, charging that when he learned about the divorce action he knocked her down and threw a chair at her.

Within a month, there was a reconciliation, but late in August she had him arrested again, this time on a charge of stealing her linens—monogrammed tablecloths and bedspreads that had been her mother's—and on September 1 she filed a second suit for divorce, this time for keeps.

Mrs. Essig, whose father is Houshoun Dunn, Rosemont and Philadelphia insurance broker, is now 25. Poole, whose father, William Henry Poole, lives in Warrington, Va., is 27. She said they met at the home of friends in Philadelphia.

It will be Poole's second marriage too. He is the divorced husband of the former Olivia A. Peters, of Ardmore. He is a graduate of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and Harvard University, where he took a master's degree in engineering.

TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Bradley Ardrey, Radcliffe street, entered the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, today, where he will undergo an operation for removal of cataracts. Mr. Ardrey is former president of Bristol borough school board.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

(By International News Service)

CANADIAN TROOPS JAB TANK SPEARHEADS

Rome—Canadian troops with the British Eighth Army in Italy who forced a bridgehead across the swollen Lamone river southwest of Faenza today jabbed tank spearheads northwest of Mezzano to cut the Ravenna-Ferrara highway.

Front-line dispatches disclosed that the rampaging Canadian columns have breached the German defense line along the Lamone river on a wide front for a depth of two miles.

The thrust came after the Canadians widened their bridgehead across the Lamone with the clearing of enemy forces of Mezzano. Then they sent other forces driving toward the Canale Naviglio on a wide front north of Bagnacavallo.

AMERICAN FIRST ARMY GAINS HEADWAY

Paris—A fresh drive by the American First Army aimed at an eventual crossing of the Roer river for a push toward Cologne gained headway today in the Lammersdorf-Monschau area, where the battle line was shoved forward almost two miles.

The Americans were confronted with new difficulties, however, as a result of a three-foot rise in the stream. It was not known immediately at headquarters whether the Roer had overflowed its banks.

The new double-pronged assault by the First at the lower end of the front east of Aachen came as the American Seventh Army scored further gains in its drive along a 35-mile front toward the Saar and the Reich industrial city of Karlsruhe where advances up to three miles were recorded.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Among the resolutions adopted at the quarterly meeting of Lower Bucks and Philadelphia Pomona Grange, No. 22, in session at Fallsington was one which asked that the Legislature remit or abolish the taxes on gasoline used for farm tractors.

Copies of this and other resolutions adopted at the meeting, which was in charge of the master, Amos Satterthwaite, were ordered sent to State Grange.

The organization passed another resolution in opposition to a bill to place colored oleomargarine on the market, and to remove the tax from oleomargarine. Favorable action was also taken on a resolution which recommends the continued rigid program against the corn borer.

Pomona also reiterated its stand against compulsory peace time military conscription on the basis that it believes it to be un-American and un-democratic.

To the People of this Community

Champions come through in a pinch. Americans hit hardest when a blow is needed most. That's why our military men confidently expect you to do your best in the tight spot your country is in now. These are dangerous days because there is the human temptation to relax a bit when the war news is good. The Japanese count on this slowing up of American war morale. American War Bond buying, American war production, to give them time to set up their inner defense line.

Every Japanese war leader will be watching closely the daily war bond tabulations here for a clue to how determined we are to follow through. They know that if they escape this war with any kind of negotiated peace they will have won for all practical purposes. The Japanese have then only to bide their time for another attempt at Japanese supremacy. Every individual American counts in this situation. It is up to you to show your championship calibre now. Only a few days remain in the Sixth War Loan. Every extra dollar you throw into the Pacific war will send its message winging toward Tokyo and help to serve notice that you are in this to the finish. ## THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington, Dec. 14—MOST of the bitter senatorial opposition to the new State Department appointments, confirmation of which was temporarily refused last week, appears to be concentrated against Mr. William L. Clayton and Mr. Archibald MacLeish. The fight against Mr. Clayton is particularly fierce. It is inspired by the radical press and the professional "liberal" leaders. They have lashed themselves into a terrific fury against him. To read the attack, one would think him a direct son of the devil. The fight against Mr. MacLeish comes largely from the conservatives and partly from personal prejudice, but it is not as heated as that against Mr. Clayton.

IT DOES not speak well for the sincerity of either group that in order to get at its particular target each was willing to endanger the confirmation of the man whom it

BRISTOLIAN IS LOCATED AT GREAT AIR TERMINAL FOR MOST PLANES ENTERING OR LEAVING EUROPE; TAKE-OFF STATION BUSY

AN AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND BASE IN GREAT BRITAIN, Dec. 14—It took trans-Atlantic ship transport 450 years to make the leap from pioneer craft to luxury liner.

Trans-Atlantic air travel has made the same leap in 17 years.

Within the past 18 months a fleet of silvery, sleek, four-motored C-54s operated by the European Division of the USAAF Air Transport Command has been shuttling back and forth over the Atlantic with time-table regularity. The accident rate is negligible, the hours of departure and arrival predictable within minutes.

During this same period, besides the transports, over ten thousand tactical aircraft have been ferried over the same run by the Air Transport Command.

If there were a roadway over the blue waters of the Atlantic stretching from New York to Britain, it would be well rutted by this time, and require traffic cops to keep things from getting snarled. At this point, concessions would doubtless have set up hot dog stands along the way.

Tucked away in the green lowlands of Scotland this Air Transport Command Station is for the most part the planes coming into or leaving Europe.

And a member of this base is T. Sgt. Kenneth J. Winslow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Winslow, of Jackson street, Bristol, Pa., who is a cryptographer.

VIP's—Very Important People—come and go by the scores. Ambassador Harriman, Lord Halifax, Secretary Stimson, Queen Wilhelmina, General Eisenhower, Admiral Starke, General Arnold, and a flock of diplomats and military and naval officers of the United Nations, come and go.

It is a huge take-off station for air evacuation to the United States of the boys wounded on the continent. Many hundreds of planes have made this mercy trip. There is even a field hospital here to care for and prepare patients heading homeward.

Freight of high priority moves swiftly through the Priorities and Traffic Office. There are propaganda leaflets to be dropped over

DECEMBER

Perhaps the month of December doesn't need much praise. Poets sing gaily of other months, but as a rule they apply their most derogatory adjectives to December. They term it dim, dreary, bleak, wild. They speak of its killing chills.

Whittier probably dealt it a heavier blow than any other poet when, in "Snow-Bound," he said: "The sun that brief December day, rose cheerless over hills of gray, and, darkly circled, gave at noon a sadder light than waning moon."

Poe, always eager to create gloomy atmosphere, selected December as the month for the appearance of his raven.

Of all months, December can get along most easily without the adulation of the poets. December happens to coincide with the Christmas season, a season that has an eternal appeal to the hearts of young and old. No one can fail to be affected by the spirit of Christmas. Even the vigorous and rude attempts in certain quarters to discredit the feast and its significance prove how strongly entrenched it is today in the human heart.

And Shakespeare gave some of his best lines to the Christmas season. There is the following from Hamlet:

"Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated, the bird of dawn singeth all night long. And then, they say, no spirit can walk abroad; the nights are wholesome; then no planets strike, no fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm, so hallow'd and so gracious is the time."

POSTWAR AUTO TRAFFIC

The bureau of transport economics and statistics, a branch of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has estimated that post-war automotive traffic will be 38 per cent higher than the average from 1935 to 1939 and 6 per cent in excess of the 1941 level. Despite a reduction in the number of cars available for use, the bureau concludes that there will be "a large amount of travel in the first postwar year, resulting from the dislocation of persons due to the war production program." Another factor will be the movement of discharged service people "back to their homes and jobs."

Apparently, no consideration has been given to the volume of traffic a year or two later, when new cars will be in production again and available for the many thousands of persons who are eagerly awaiting them.

Many persons have questioned the thesis frequently advanced by the enthusiastic advocates of the spending of billions on roads after the war that traffic will be several times as heavy as in pre-war years. Automobile factories, for several years after the war, will be making new cars by the millions, but the total number of automobiles in service by that time will be many millions short of the 1941 figure, and as new cars become available, most of the old models still on the roads will be scrapped.

"May I tell Mother? She'll be so pleased."

"Of course... after I've..."

"Told Matthew?" Judith rose.

"I must go now. There are a hundred things to see to, Mary. Matthew will be all right. Olga and Nils can look after him... and you, I suppose, as you always have."

She bent and kissed her mother-in-law who, in parting, said softly, "I have no right to try to make you alter your decision. You know how I feel... and that no matter what happens I shall always love you, my dear."

When the door closed, Mary went to the windows and stood looking out at the gray sky and the idle flakes of snow which came swirling down. She wondered what Lynn would say when he learned of this. Her heart tightened and then accelerated its even beating. She would see him tonight.

Judith left for Chicago on the Twentieth Century. Matthew had spoken to her only when Nils or Olga were present during the last three days. He came in now as she was directing the closing of her luggage and she said Olga should go when he learned of this. Her heart tightened and then accelerated its even beating. 8th. Camp will open each week on Sunday. A vesper service will be held on Sunday afternoon for the incoming scouts and the regular chapel service on Sunday morning. Melvin G. Mack, supervising principal of the Springfield Township, Bucks County, school, has again been selected by the committee for the position of camp director for Camp Ockanickon. Mr. Mack was camp director last season.

E. H. Lovett of Yardley, chairman of the finance committee, reported that to date the finance campaign has reached a total of $17,552. A budget was presented and approved by the finance committee, which will include the employment of an Assistant Scout Executive, beginning April 1st, as part of the plan of the council for the year of the work of scouting and cubbing during the coming year. Hon. Hiram H. Keller, president of the council, highly commended the work which has been done in Bucks County this year by the finance campaign chairmen and workers throughout the whole county.

David Sheerer, Jr., Bristol, chairman of the organization committee, reported a total of 1549 scouts and cubs, which exceeds the total number of boys at the end of any year in the history of the council.

S. A. Miller, of Langhorne, chairman of the training committee, reported that 51% of the leaders of the units of the council have received basic training. The standard of requirement for training of leaders has been raised, through a cooperative effort on the part of the organization and training committees so that next year training will be essential for the re-registration of a troop.

Fred H. Schmidt of Perkasie, chairman of the Cub planning committee, told of the progress which has been made in cubbing during the past year with the set up of activities program for the packs and the training program for all cub leaders.

District reports showed that the districts are all in excellent condition. One hundred and forty persons have been in attendance at the district annual meetings, which have been held in four districts up to the present time. Two district meetings are still to be held.

Scout Executive Raymond W. Hoxworth reported on all phases of scouting up to this time and praised the work that is being done by the committees of the council and the commissioner staff.

The nominating committee was appointed to nominate officers for the council for the coming year. The elections will be held at the annual meeting in the Presbyterian Educational building in Doylestown on January 19th. Thomas B. Stockham of Morrisville, who recently received the Regional Silver Antelope award, reported on the regional meeting that was held in Philadelphia recently.

THE REST OF MY LIFE WITH YOU by Faith Baldwin

CHAPTER FORTY

"Try not to hate me for this," Judith said steadily. "Matthew has said it is a whim. It's not. I'm trying to save us both. I—she smiled, a strained, tight smile—"I'm rapidly becoming neurotic. I'll end up being one of those women who have regular nervous breakdowns, if I go on living this way."

After a rather long silence, Mary remarked, "Perhaps your going away will help and now for some news: Lynn and I are going to be married."

"Darling, I'm so glad," Judith laid her arms across the older woman's knees and looked up at her, her eyes shining. "I didn't think I'd be happy about anything ever," she said, "but I am about this. It's what I've wanted for you."

"I know. And something you said, last autumn, had a good deal to do with it," Mary told her.

"Inhibitions!"

"Possibly. Anyway, before Christmas we're to be married and go on a cruise."

"You haven't told Matthew?" asked Judith.

"It's silly. But I'm afraid to—" Mary paused, then said, "I didn't realize how happy I could be."

"May I tell Mother? She'll be so pleased."

"Of course... after I've..."

"Told Matthew?" Judith rose.

"I must go now. There are a hundred things to see to, Mary. Matthew will be all right. Olga and Nils can look after him... and you, I suppose, as you always have."

She bent and kissed her mother-in-law who, in parting, said softly, "I have no right to try to make you alter your decision. You know how I feel... and that no matter what happens I shall always love you, my dear."

When the door closed, Mary went to the windows and stood looking out at the gray sky and the idle flakes of snow which came swirling down. She wondered what Lynn would say when he learned of this. Her heart tightened and then accelerated its even beating. She would see him tonight.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Bickley Burns Broadhead
Pastor

Almighty God, in whom there is no darkness, we draw nigh to Thee that we may see more clearly what we deeply feel but dimly perceive. Out of the storm and night of a world at war we turn to Thee in quietness and confidence to renew our strength.

Be Thou the presence on the altar of our hearts; lead us to the highroad of Thy purpose for our lives; open our hearts to the whisper of Thy voice that we may discover that inner victory and peace in the doing of Thy will. Our prayer is the name of Jesus, the light of the world. Amen.

Bristolian Located At Air Terminal; Planes Entering Or Leaving Europe

enemy territory; parts for planes or weapons, equipment for guerrilla armies, needed medical items, pieces of tactical equipment, luggage and bags of mail—all of it barely 18 hours out of New York.

Hundreds of planes land here weekly. From shunky little A20's and other combat craft arriving to take their place in the Battle for Europe, to the massive C54's masters of the North Atlantic.

Routine is the word around here. A plane leaving for or arriving from the States gets about the same notice as a train coming into or leaving Grand Central Station. After all you can't get very excited about something that happens every few minutes or so. Only from the control tower do a pair of watchful eyes look toward an approaching plane to drone out a few directions or take-off instructions.

This is an installation, of staggering size. You could dump half a dozen of the biggest railroad terminals in America on the field here and they'd hardly be noticed among the multitude of runways or dispersal and storage areas.

If you stand long enough at the main passenger lounge you will meet probably everyone in the newspaper headlines. In the passenger dining room you may get seated at a table with a couple of R. A. F. chaps, a Polish Charge d'Affaires, a Bombay steamship merchant, a Dutch naval officer, or some minor monarch from the near East. You might even find yourself next to a high ranking German POW on his way to the United States. It is an international airways cross-roads, a most cosmopolitan place.

The air terminal here is a U. S. army operation, and how many thousands of soldiers and civilians see this place is something a security-minded army won't say. But there is hardly any kind of technical skill used anywhere in the armed forces that is not employed here.

Trans-oceanic air travel is one of the most significant developments of this war. It is not very hard to foresee its future a few years hence. What it all adds up to is well expressed by General Earl S. Hoag, Commanding General of this epochal development in sky transportation.

"Air travel has helped shorten the war. After the war it will bring America nearer to the world and the world nearer to America. London and Paris will be within the vacation period of practically every adult in the United States."

The fares overseas, if not officially announced, have been estimated at less than a third class trip by boat. Travelling time may be a bare 12 hours each way. Clearly, round-the-world travel by air is no longer among the "things to come." It's here. Has been here, in fact, for over two years.

Decide A Youth Canteen Is Needed Here in Bristol

teen to replace the parent," Mrs. Ancker said, "and there must be the fullest co-operation between school authorities, municipal authorities and the parents."

Mrs. Richard S. Landis, chairman of the Morrisville Youth Canteen, said "It is the purpose of our organization to provide additional recreation for the boys and the girls of the community. The cost is small. You will get a lot of criticism but it is worth the effort." The average attendance at Morrisville is 115 and the canteen is open one night each week.

A letter was read from the Hon. Hiram H. Keller, President Judge of the Bucks County Courts, approving of the canteen.

William H. H. Fine read a letter from Chief of Police Linford J. Jones in which the police official gave the canteen his endorsement. He stated there had been 10 arrests of juveniles in Bristol during the present year and that many summons had been issued for others who had been dealt with on the Golden Rule principle. "The children of Bristol are not bad," the Chief wrote. "They will respond to proper training and supervision. The parents are to blame for all juvenile delinquency. There is no such thing as a born criminal."

Dr. J. Fred Wagner related his experience with the Community Center which operated for a few years and then disbanded. Dr. Wagner said that the movement started out as a community project supported by funds raised in the community. Later the National Youth Administration became active in the management, contributed funds for a time and then withdrew its support. It was then that the effort collapsed. He advised against accepting government funds.

Such a project as a youth canteen was given hearty endorsement by Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of the Bristol public schools. Mr. Snyder expressed the hope that the community would be far sighted enough to provide in the near future wholesome recreational facilities for people of the community.

Asked for an expression of opinion from the clergymen of the town, the Rev. George E. Boswell, dean of the Bristol Protestant clergymen, voiced his opinion that such a movement is worthwhile and is vitally needed here. He expressed regret there were no other clergymen present.

iary, approved of the idea as did David Hertzler, principal of the Bristol high school. Mr. Hertzler said "you find a good cross-section of the children of the community in the public schools where no distinction is shown. The young people are talking about the canteen and they want it."

Representing the First Baptist Church of Bristol Warren Talbot said "The First Baptist Church opposes dancing in the canteen and do not consider that dancing elevates the youth of the community." He said that the church approved and would endorse either a YMCA or a YWCA. He invited the group to visit his church this evening and see what is being done there for 150 youths who attend weekly.

Mrs. Benjamin Broadbridge, representing the Eastern Star; Mrs. Elwood P. Gosline, speaking for Mrs. David Sheerer, president Lower Bucks County Republican Women; Mrs. Carl Foell, Rohm & Haas Sewing Circle, all voiced approval as did William Mack of the Bracken Post; Harold James of Bristol Lodge of Elks and representatives of the Moose and Rotary Club.

Burgess Schmidt was of the opinion that the first thing to do after it had been decided that a canteen is needed in Bristol, is to procure a building. "If there is no building available why then we can't get very far," said the burgess.

Representatives of the various organizations attending were asked to inform their organizations of the proposed plan and to bring back to the next meeting the action taken by their groups.

four o'clock Tuesday morning, will appear before the Bucks County Juvenile Court while Stallone and Mauro will appear before the regular session of criminal court, they having been held without bail for the next court term.

The quartette, with the exception of Mauro were found in the A&P Super Market shortly after four o'clock Tuesday morning when the police officer made a search of the place after learning that one of the doors was found open.

Penna. State Police yesterday filed charges against Kyniak and Stallone, after the two had admitted, it is said, robbing the Croydon Diner and the headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Croydon. The juveniles along with the other two prisoners appeared before Justice of Peace, Arthur P. Brady, yesterday. The juveniles were not heard but the other two were.

Statements were admitted in evidence which the prisoners had previously given to Police Chief Jones.

Justice Brady held the two older boys without bail for court and after handing down his decision told the youths that they were very lucky that they had not been shot by the police officer. He told them that under the circumstances of their arrest, anything could have happened either to them or to Officer Vansant.

The justice highly commended Officer Vansant for his show of courage and cool and level-headed action in searching the store alone, in his arrest of the youths and the handling of the case in general. Vansant entered the store at four o'clock Tuesday morning after finding that an outer door was open and an inner door had been jammed.

He then searched the store finding first two boys with their loot packed in cartons near the Market street entrance. Then a third was found concealed near a cashier's stand, while the fourth was found outside in a car. A lot of tools were also found which had been used in a serious attempt to force open the store safe. The safe was considerably damaged.

Chief Jones added his praise to the good police work of Officer Vansant and said that he was greatly pleased with what Vansant had done and the capture of the youths by the officer without any assistance. "It was good police work," said the chief.

gave selections on the harp and piano, as well as imitations. There was an old-fashioned Punch-and-Judy show. Pagana and her violin added much to the show. Results of the election at the meeting, which was attended by 31 members, were as follows: President, Elmer O. Strouse; vice-president, O. Arthur Myers; recording secretary, Harold O. Leatheman; assistant recording secretary, Walter D. Rush; financial secretary, Henry S. Wolfinger; treasurer, W. Paxson Bishop; trustees, Claud S. Hinkle and Roland Kramer, and chief, Robert J. Schleicher.

The Rev. Harold D. Burkholder, who for the past seven years has served as pastor of East Swamp Mennonite Church, near Quakertown, on Sunday announced his resignation, which will become effective next May. The Rev. Mr. Burkholder has accepted a call to the pastorate of Emmanuel Mennonite Church, Los Angeles, Cal., where he will take up his duties next July.

More than 50 persons, including visitors from several other Granges, on Monday evening attended the annual exhibit of Chalfont Grange.

The brief business session was in charge of the overseer, Raymond S. Detweiler, in the absence of the master, Merrill Fellman, who is attending sessions of the State Grange in Harrisburg. Included among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. S. Wilfred Smith, of Pineville Grange, and Marie Bishop and Raymond Gross, of Plumsteadville Grange.

Mrs. Raymond S. Detweiler and Mrs. Alice Myers, of the home economics committee, had charge of the program after the business session, and the music was in charge of Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. Leroy Shutt.

Rohm & Haas Spokesman Denies Gov't Charges

The three corporations have been indicted for cartel conspiracy with foreign interests in connection with manufacture of materials used in airplane construction. The du Pont and Rohm & Haas suit concerns manufacture of plastics, including those used in military aircraft, for instance in pilots' cockpits and bomber noses. The Bendix issue relates to production of component airplane parts.

One reason assigned for proceeding now, it was explained, is the effect on the reconversion program after the war when the Department of Justice thinks, any illegally controlled patents should be laid open to other manufacturers. This is "tremendously important," it was asserted.

Commenting on the action of the Department of Justice in pressing for immediate trial of its charges against Rohm & Haas Company for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, Duncan Merriwether, treasurer of the Rohm & Haas company, denied all charges.

"The agreements of which the Department of Justice complains," he said, "are licenses under United States patents owned by aliens, pursuant to which Rohm & Haas received the right to manufacture under such patents in this country. These licenses enabled Rohm & Haas to produce materials vital to the efficiency of American military aircraft."

Besides Plexiglas, the transparent plastic used today in every type of army and navy plane, Rohm & Haas' products include ingredients of synthetic rubber materials to control the flow of naval and aircraft oils despite temperature changes, and other vital war chemicals. The company has three times received the Army-Navy "E" Award for outstanding war productions. Seventy-five percent of its total production is used by the armed forces.

"This action by the Department of Justice," said Mr. Merriwether, "poses the basic question whether the United States Government would prefer that executives of a major war industry concentrate on production of materials vital to war or on attendance in court to combat legal charges which have been denied by such executives," pointing out that trial of the issues had on August 30, 1943, been postponed for the duration as contrary to the public interest.

"Here again," he added, "is an instance of prosecutors' charges being released in such news form that they are likely to be accepted by the public as proven facts, whereas actually they are only one side of a case in which the other side has not yet had an opportunity to be heard."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

And, and the opposition is clearly a matter of prejudice, there is slight expectation that it will prevail.

AS A matter of fact, whether Mr. Hopkins selected these two men, or whether Mr. Roosevelt himself selected them, they are good selections and it would be extremely unfortunate if their services were lost through the unreasoning opposition of prejudiced politicians, regardless of the group to which they adhere. Take the case of Mr. Clayton. The only real opposition to Mr. Clayton is due to the fact that he is one of the most successful business men in the United States. But that is enough to make him violently hated by a certain type of extreme radical, to whom Mr. Roosevelt has too often listened, and by whom he has been too often gawped.

JUST as Mr. Parnuch said that Mr. Clayton was the best-equipped man in the whole United States for the job of surplus products administrator, so he is certainly one of the best equipped to map and manage our vitally important postwar foreign economic policy, which is what he will do in his new post. A man of unquestioned patriotism, of conceded integrity and signal ability, one would think that there would be a unanimous desire to confirm him for the office which he did not seek, does not particularly want, but for which his training for many years especially fits him.

AS TO Mr. MacLeish, if confirmed, his duties will be to promote cultural relations between this and other nations and to foster in foreign countries a better understanding of the basic facts of American policy. No one questions that, under State Department direction and control, these are good things to do, and no one who knows him would really question that Mr. MacLeish is a very good man to do them. In fact, it would be hard to think of a better. Certainly, he is a highly cultured and erudite man. Certainly, too, wholly aside from his poetry, he has a rare gift of expression both as a speaker and a writer.

BETTER STILL, he is a man of character and conviction. It has been intimated that Mr. MacLeish is a Communist—or, at least, a dangerous radical—which, of course, is silly. Undoubtedly he is an "advanced New Dealer" and an avowed "liberal," but he isn't a phony "liberal" nor a stuffy one. It is said that he did not make a success of his job in the old Facts and Figures Administration, but under the conditions as they then were, it is doubtful whether anyone could, and, assuredly, he has made a success as Librarian of Congress. His ability to get along with Congress is attested by the fact that in recent years he has appeared before House and Senate committees many times to ask for appropriations and explain the needs of the Library. In one instance, Congress gave him more than he asked, in none did they refuse his request. Perhaps his taste in present-day heroes is somewhat to be deplored, but otherwise it is hard to see why any reasonable man could object to Mr. MacLeish for this particular post.

Several Last Minute Christmas Suggestions

Surprise Ball—Purchase small objects of interest to a child. Wrap in tissue paper and using left over yarn of one color or many colors, start wrapping around the little package. Without breaking off the yarn, add another little package and continue wrapping with the yarn. Continue until you have a large ball with 3-4 little presents. Keep the ball round. Wrap in cellophane or tissue paper. Watch the fun on Xmas morning when "Sue" must unwind all the yarn to reach her presents.

Hair Bows—For a last minute present for your little girl make 5-6 small hair bows using about 24" lengths of ribbon. Wrap for the Xmas stockings.

Snow Man—Use a large piece of cotton, fold to make a cylinder. Tie a piece of string tight to form the neck. Cut out black eyes, nose, from black felt or paper and paste in position. Red mouth. Make three large red buttons and a 2" circle for the hat. Insert a ribbon at top of head. This makes an interesting ornament for the tree, or may be used as a part of a table decoration.

Yarn Dolls—Make several in matching colors to wear on a lapel—or may be used as curtain pulls in your daughter's room after Xmas.

Lapel Menagerie—Use old wool material or pieces of old felt hat. Cut out and blanket stitch around the edges. Use your ingenuity in applying feathers, buttons and spots. Put safety pin through on the wrong side.

Clothespin Color Pegboard—Materials and tools needed: Block of wood 2"x6"x9", 12 clothespins, sandpaper, saw, brace and bit, the 6"x9" surface of the block, paint in 6 colors, brushes.

Construction: Bore two rows of six holes each, down the sides of these holes should go only 3/4 of the way through the block and should be large enough to let the clothespins slip in easily. Saw the flare part of the clothespin off. Di-

Home-Made Bread Easy To Make In Enameled Ware

There's nothing hard about making good, fresh, home-made bread.

If you have a large enameled dishpan in which the dough will have ample room to rise. Try this recipe for bread which will really bring cheers from the family.

Many homemakers have an enameled dishpan just for bread raising.

For cooking oatmeal, use an enameled double boiler and cook 2 1/4 cups of oatmeal in 3 cups of water to make amount called for in recipe.

Oatmeal Bread
(Makes 3 loaves)
2 cakes fresh yeast
3/4 cup lukewarm water

3 cups thick, cooked oatmeal
3 tbs. melted shortening
2 tbs. sugar
2 tsp. salt
7 cups sifted flour.

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water; mix oatmeal, sugar, salt and shortening together. Add yeast and mix well. Blend in flour. Turn out on floured board and knead 10-15 minutes until elastic. Place in dishpan, cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour and 15 minutes. Shape into three loaves and place in greased bread pans. Cover and let rise until light.

about 50 minutes. Bake in a moderately hot (400 degrees F.) oven about 1 hour.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

VERY FESTIVE for dinner table or living room candy jar are red Jordan almonds and green Jordan almonds, mixed especially for Christmas. They are to be had in the Snellenburg Candy Dept. (Market St. Store). Moreover, they are the large, tender paper-shell variety. They sell at $1.39 a pound. Use them at home, take as a hostess gift, or send to boys and girls in the Service. (1st fl.)

WHY PAY big prices for books that can be bought in splendid reprints? To me the $1 reprint table in the Snellenburg Book Dept. is a gold mine at Christmastime. Just now it is crowded with hundreds of reprints—and nice ones—that in the original versions cost from $2 to $5. You will find the best of fiction and non-fiction still considered current. To cite only a few—For Whom the Bell Tolls, Dragon Seed, Since You Went Away, Mr. Winkle Goes to War, etc. Among the non-fiction is Guadalupe Diary. Equally famous titles are innumerable. Make a list of your reading friends and stock up! (1st fl.)

MASCULINE IDEA. Lad or man, he'll whoop at sight of a genuine snakeskin belt protruding from his Christmas sock. Difficult to get, but the alert Men's Furnishings Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has some, so hop a train or send an order. Imported reptile skins beautifully marked, excellently crafted and backed with fine smooth leathers. Sizes 32 to 42. Only $2. (1st fl.)

BUY HIM a famous MacGregor sweater. They are both makes that men like. The Sporting Goods Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has a particular good Christmas supply even at this late date. These two Scotch namesakes come in both cardigan and pullover styles, and most of them are 100% wool, as you'll see from the labelings. Sizes 36 to 46. Some styles 48 to 52. Plain colors and newest style two-tones. You'll like the high-color snow or ski sweaters. Prices range from $2.95 to $9.95. This Sporting Goods Dept. holds many gifts suitable for men the year around. Look about you while there. (3rd fl.)

IT'S HARD to sell me on a cloth handbag. It was, that is, until I glimpsed the new collection in the glass cases of the Snellenburg Handbag Dept. Tailored in either black or brown broadcloth, they have just the right trimming or catches of artistically-molded lucite. I don't know when I've been so impressed. Prices range from $7.50 to $35.95. The designers have achieved efforts impossible of attainment with leathers. There are severe styles, pouches, and original designs almost out of this world. Girl or woman, gift her with a Snellenburg "broadcloth" and she'll beam! Oh, yes, each of these bags is equipped with a purse and mirror. (1st fl.)

P.S. Shop at this friendly store—Market from 11th to 12th, thru to 1125-29 Chestnut St., Phila. Or order by mail. Or phone free (5c, 10c and 15c out-of-town calls only.) Clippings appreciated. Penna. number, ENTERPRISE 10160; New Jersey, WX-1150. Cheerio! Faithfully, FAITH.

FARMERS SEE TOUGH YEAR OF PRODUCTION

Food Goals Are Pegged at Top Levels in Face Of Shortages

CROP QUOTAS FIXED

By Suzanne Flick

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 14—What may be the toughest production year of the war loomed before Pennsylvania farmers today with food goals pegged at top levels in the face of increasing labor and machinery shortages.

Crop quotas fixed by Federal and State representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency at a recent goals conference in Harrisburg indicated farmers would find no letup in food demands for carrying on the war. The majority were kept at or surpassed last year's record output, while only current surplus commodities were adjusted downward.

"It looks as if the goals are as high and the handicaps more severe than last year," said Secretary J. A. Smith. "The labor situation is not easing and may become worse."

"The Army is still taking some farm boys," he explained. "And prisoner of war labor is good only in mass production."

Smith said fertilizer would be harder to obtain since large quantities of needed sulphuric acid have been taken by the armed forces. He predicted new machinery would be unavailable.

"Dealers have come to the conclusion that there is no more machinery to be had this season," he said. "The War Production Board has backtracked on its steel allotments since the once apparent nearness of victory has faded somewhat."

A heavy demand for Pennsylvania potatoes has upped prices 20 to 30 cents a hundred pounds according to the State Agriculture Department.

The Bureau of Markets said November rail shipments approximated 403 cars compared with 201 for the same period last year.

Truckers experienced a similar rise in business. Unusually light out-of-State shipments and hold-over stocks from 1943 also helped increase supplies.

In addition, large quantities of U. S. number one grade spuds were being ordered by the armed services.

months were believed by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service to have reached a war time peak but a greater post-war demand for rural acreage was predicted.

The sales volume from March to December this year was held to one-tenth of last year's 29 per cent increase.

Farm lands throughout the nation advanced three per cent during the four months ending November 1st in contrast with a 15 per cent increase last year.

Apple shipments in the State doubled those of 1943 but were light for a heavy yield, the Bureau of Markets reported. D. N. James, Bureau chief, said canners are experiencing a severe loss from early ripening and decay of apples due to excessive rainfall and warm weather.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1944

DECEMBER

Perhaps the month of December need not much praise. Poets sing gaily of other months, but as a rule they apply their most derogatory adjectives to December. They term it dim, dreary, bleak, wild. They speak of its killing chills.

Whittier probably dealt it a heavier blow than any other poet when, in "Snow-Bound," he said: "The sun that brief December day, rose cheerless over hills of gray, and, darkly circled, gave at noon a sadder light than waning moon."

Poe, always eager to create gloomy atmosphere, selected December as the month for the appearance of his raven.

Of all months, December can get along most easily without the adulation of the poets. December happens to coincide with the Christmas season, a season that has an eternal appeal to the hearts of young and old. No one can fail to be affected by the spirit of Christmas. Even the vigorous and rude attempts in certain quarters to discredit the feast and its significance prove how strongly entrenched it is today in the human heart.

And Shakespeare gave some of his best lines to the Christmas season. This is the following from Hamlet:

"Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated, the bird of dawning singeth all night long. And then, they say, no spirit can walk abroad; the nights are wholesome; no planets strike, no fairy takes, nor witch bath power to charm, so hallow'd and so gracious is the time."

POSTWAR AUTO TRAFFIC

The bureau of transport economics and statistics, a branch of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has estimated that post-war automotive traffic will be 38 per cent higher than the average from 1935 to 1939 and 6 per cent in excess of the 1941 level. Despite a reduction in the number of cars available for use, the bureau concludes that there will be "a large amount of travel in the first postwar year, resulting from the dislocation of persons due to the war production program."

Another factor will be the movement of discharged service people "back to their homes and jobs."

Apparently, no consideration has been given to the volume of traffic a year or two later, when new cars will be in production again and available for the many thousands of persons who are eagerly awaiting them.

Many persons have questioned the thesis frequently advanced by enthusiastic advocates of the spending of billions on roads after the war that traffic will be several times as heavy as in pre-war years. Automobile factories, for several years after the war, will be making new cars by the millions, but the total number of automobiles in service by that time will be many millions short of the 1941 figure, and as new cars become available, most of the old models still on the roads will be scrapped.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Bickley Burns Broadhead
Pastor
Bensalem Methodist Church

Almighty God, in whom there is no darkness, we draw nigh to Thee that we may see more clearly what we deeply feel but dimly perceive. Out of the storm and night of a world at war we turn to Thee in quietness and confidence to renew our strength.

Be Thou the presence on the altar of our hearts; lead us to the highroad of Thy purpose for our lives; open our hearts to the whisper of Thy voice that we may discover that inner victory and peace in the doing of Thy will. Our prayer is the name of Jesus, the light of the world. Amen.

CALF CLAIMS AWARDS

WALDFORT, Ore.—(INS)—When

La Velle Breen, a young farm girl, received a check for awards won by a calf at a 4-H Club fair, she left it on the seat of her car. Apparently knowing the check really belonged to her, the heifer reached in and ate it up. The fair board heard the story and sent Miss Breen a new check.

enemy territory, parts for planes or weapons, equipment for guerrilla armies, needed medical items, pieces of tactical equipment, luggage and bags of mail—all of it barely 18 hours out of New York. Hundreds of planes land here weekly. From shabby little A29's and other combat craft arriving to take their place in the Battle for Europe, to the massive C54's—masters of the North Atlantic.

Routine is the word around here. A plane leaving for or arriving from the States gets about the same notice as a train coming into or leaving Grand Central Station. After all you can't get very excited about something that happens every few minutes or so. Only from the control tower do a pair of watchful eyes look toward an approaching plane to drone out a few directions or take-off instructions. This is an installation of staggering size. You could dump half a dozen of the biggest railroad terminals in America on the field here and they'd hardly be noticed among the multitude of runways or dispersal and storage areas.

If you stand long enough at the main passenger lounge you will meet probably everyone in the newspaper headlines. In the passenger dining room you may get seated at a table with a couple of R. A. F. chaps, a Polish Charge d'Affaires, a Dutch naval officer, or some minor monarch from the East. You might even find yourself next to a high ranking German POW on his way to the United States. It is an international airway cross-roads, a most cosmopolitan place.

The air terminal here is a U. S. Army operation, and how many thousands of soldiers and civilians from this place is something a security-minded army won't say. But there is hardly any kind of technical skill used anywhere in the armed forces that is not employed here.

Trans-oceanic air travel is one of the most significant developments of this war. It is not very hard to foresee its future a few years hence. What it all adds up to is well expressed by General Earl S. Hoag, Commanding General of this epochal development in sky transportation.

Air travel has helped shorten the war. After the war it will bring America nearer to the world and the world nearer to America. London and Paris will be within the vacation period of practically every adult in the United States.

The fares overseas, if not officially announced, have been estimated at less than a third class trip by boat. Travelling time may be a mere 12 hours each way. Clearly, around-the-world travel by air is no longer among the "things to come," but here. Has been here, in fact, for over two years.

teen to replace the parent." Mrs. Ancker said, "and there must be the fullest co-operation between school authorities, municipal authorities and the parents."

Mrs. Richard S. Landis, chairman of the Morrisville Youth Canteen, said "it is the purpose of our organization to provide additional recreation for the boys and the girls of the community. The cost is small. You will get a lot of criticism but it is worth the effort." The average attendance at Morrisville is 115 and the canteen is open one night each week.

A letter was read from the Hon. Hiram H. Keller, President Judge of the Bucks County Courts, approving of the canteen.

William H. H. Fine read a letter from Chief of Police Linford J. Jones in which the police officer gave the canteen his endorsement. He stated there had been 10 arrests of juveniles in Bristol during the present year and that many summons had been issued for others who had been dealt with on the Golden Rule principle. "The children of Bristol are not bad," the Chief wrote. "They will respond to proper training and supervision. The parents are to blame for all juvenile delinquency. There is no such thing as a born criminal."

Dr. J. Fred Wagner related his experience with the Community Center which operated for a few years and then disbanded. Dr. Wagner said that the movement started out as a community project supported by funds raised in the community. Later the National Youth Administration became active in the management, contributed funds for a time and then withdrew its support. It was then that the effort collapsed. He advised against accepting government funds.

Such a project as a youth canteen was given hearty endorsement by Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of the Bristol public schools. Mr. Snyder expressed the hope that the community would be far sighted enough to provide in the near future wholesome recreational facilities for people of the community.

Asked for an expression of opinion from the clergymen of the town, the Rev. George E. Boswell, dean of the Bristol Protestant clergymen, voiced his opinion that such a movement is worthwhile and is vitally needed here. He expressed regret there were no other clergymen present.

iary, approved of the idea as did David Hertzler, principal of the Bristol high school. Mr. Hertzler said "you find a good cross-section of the children of the community in the public schools where no distinction is shown. The young people are talking about the canteen and they want it."

Representing the First Baptist Church of Bristol Warren Talbot said "The First Baptist Church opposes dancing in the canteen and do not consider that dancing elevates the youth of the community." He said that the church approved and would endorse either a YMCA or a YWCA. He invited the group to visit his church this evening and see what is being done there for 150 youths who attend weekly.

Mrs. Benjamin Broadbridge, representing the Eastern Star; Mrs. Elwood P. Goeline, speaking for Mrs. David Sheerer, president Lower Bucks County Republican Women; Mrs. Carl Foell, Rohm & Haas Sewing Circle, all voiced approval as did William Mack of the Bracken Post; Harold James of Bristol Lodge of Elks and representatives of the Moose, and Rotary Club.

Burgess Schmidt was of the opinion that the first thing to do after it had been decided that a canteen is needed in Bristol, is to procure a building. "If there is no building available why then we can't get very far," said the burgess.

Representatives of the various organizations attending were asked to inform their organizations of the proposed plan and to bring back to the next meeting the action taken by their groups.

Two Juveniles Admit Two More Robberies

four o'clock Tuesday morning, will appear before the Bucks County Juvenile Court while Stallone and Mauro will appear before the regular session of criminal court, they having been held without bail for the next court term.

The quartette, with the exception of Mauro were found in the A&P Super Market shortly after four o'clock Tuesday morning when the police officer made a search of the place after learning that one of the doors was found open.

Penna. State Police yesterday filed charges against Kyniak and Stallone, after the two had admitted, it is said, robbing the Croydon Diner and the headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Croydon. The juveniles along with the other two prisoners appeared before Justice of Peace, Arthur P. Brady, yesterday. The juveniles were not heard but the other two were. Statements were admitted in evidence which the prisoners had previously given to Police Chief Jones.

Justice Brady held the two older boys without bail for court and after handing down his decision told the youths that they were very lucky that they had not been shot by the police officer. He told them that under the circumstances of their arrest, anything could have happened either to them or to Officer Vansant.

The justice highly commended Officer Vansant for his show of courage and cool and level-headed

action in searching the store alone. In his arrest of the youths and the handling of the case in general, Vansant entered the store at four o'clock Tuesday morning after finding that an outer door was open and an inner door had been jammed.

He then searched the store finding first two boys with their loot packed in cartons near the Market street entrance. Then a third was found concealed near a cashier's stand, while the fourth was found outside in a car. A lot of tools were also found which had been used in a serious attempt to force open the store safe. The safe was considerably damaged.

Chief Jones added his praise to the good police work of Officer Vansant and said that he was greatly pleased with what Vansant had done and the capture of the youths by the officer without any assistance. "It was good police work," said the chief.

Results of the election at the meeting, which was attended by 31 members, were as follows: President, Elmer O. Strouse; vice-president, O. Arthur Myers; recording secretary, Harold O. Leath-eman; assistant recording secretary, Walter D. Rush; financial secretary, Henry S. Wolfinger; treasurer, W. Paxson Bishop; trustees, Claud S. Hinkle and Roland Kramer, and chief, Robert J. The Rev. Harold D. Burkholder, who for the past seven years has served as pastor of East Swamp Mennonite Church, near Quakertown, on Sunday announced his resignation, which will become effective next May. The Rev. Mr. Burkholder has accepted a call to the pastorate of Emmanuel Mennonite Church, Los Angeles, Cal., where he will take up his duties next July.

More than 50 persons, including visitors from several other Granges, on Monday evening attended the annual exhibit of Chalfont Grange.

The brief business session was in charge of the overseer, Raymond S. Detweiler, in the absence of the master, Merrill Fellman, who is attending sessions of the State Grange in Harrisburg. Included among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. S. Wilfred Smith, of Pineville Grange, and Marie Bishop and Raymond Gross, of Plumsteadville Grange.

Mrs. Raymond S. Detweiler and Mrs. Alice Myers, of the home economics committee, had charge of the program after the business session, and the music was in charge of Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. Leroy Shutt.

The three corporations have been indicted for cartel conspiracy with foreign interests in connection with manufacture of materials used in airplane construction. The du Pont and Rohm & Haas suit concerns manufacture of plastics, including those used in military aircraft, for instance in pilots' cockpits and bomber noses. The Bendix issue relates to production of component airplane parts.

One reason assigned for proceeding now, it was explained, is the effect on the reconversion program after the war when the Department of Justice thinks any illegally controlled patents should be laid open to other manufacturers. This is "tremendously important," it was asserted.

Commenting on the action of the Department of Justice in pressing for immediate trial of its charges against Rohm & Haas Company for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, Duncan Merriwether, treasurer of the Rohm & Haas company, denied all charges.

"The agreements of which the Department of Justice complains," he said, "are licenses under United States patents owned by aliens, pursuant to which Rohm & Haas received the right to manufacture under such patents in this country. These licenses enabled Rohm & Haas to produce materials vital to the efficiency of American military aircraft."

Besides Plexiglas, the transparent plastic used today in every type of army and navy plane, Rohm & Haas' products include ingredients of synthetic rubber materials to control the flow of naval and aircraft oils despite temperature changes, and other vital war chemicals. The company has three times received the Army-Navy "E" Award for outstanding war productions. Seventy-five percent of its total production is used by the armed forces.

"This action by the Department of Justice," said Mr. Merriwether, "poses the basic question whether the United States Government would prefer that executives of a major war industry concentrate on production of materials vital to war or on attendance in court to combat legal charges which have been denied by such executives," pointing out that trial of the issues had on August 26, 1943, been postponed for the duration as contrary to the public interest.

"Here again," he added, "is an instance of prosecutors' charges being released in such news form that they are likely to be accepted by the public as proven facts, whereas actually they are only one side of a case in which the other side has not yet had an opportunity to be heard."

AIRCRAFT BUILDERS FLY THEIR PLANES

Personnel of Piper Plant,
From 16 to 61, Pilot
Craft

ALL ARE AIR-MINDED

LOCK HAVEN, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Employees of the Piper Aircraft Corporation don't only build planes—they fly 'em.

Nearly 600 of the Lock Haven plant's personnel—ranging in age from 16 to 61—are pilots, according to the firm's president, William E. Piper, Sr. Many are so air-minded that they would rather fly than eat. In fact they do just that by spending many of their lunch hours in the sky above the Bald Eagle Valley.

Most of them are members of the Piper Cub Fliers, the largest independent group of pilots in the United States. Piper, who is honorary president of the association, learned to fly at 50 and now, at 61, pilots his own plane all over the country campaigning for more and better small-town airports. They'll be needed, he says, to meet the demand as aviation expands with the return of our war fliers to peacetime pursuits. Two of his three sons are in Uncle Sam's Air Force: Navy Lieut. Howard Piper and Army Capt. W. T. Piper, Jr.

Luther Blume, who recently succeeded Robert Bowes, Jr., as president of Cub Fliers, points out that members pay only $1.12 per hour to fly. At present, however, the association is hard pressed for planes, since the total output of the Piper plant has been going to the Army for years. The small, unarmed craft are used by the Field Artillery, which found them invaluable in observation work.

The Clinton County plant's outstanding wartime production record recently was saluted by the "Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" when Tommy Tucker's 21-piece group entertained for four hours in the company's giant assembly building.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

house for school and college holiday vacations. The hospitable holiday spirit, however, must be expected to make heavy demands on your reserve supply of household linens. But no matter how old and worn they are, they'll still look invitingly fresh and attractive if you give them a specially careful washing and ironing.

There's a special technique to insure gleaming white linens without streaks, even if they've been yellowed a bit by standing on shelves. Just add soap flakes with your favorite mild suds, building up a two to three inch suds, and wash the linen thoroughly. Rinse in two clear waters. Adding bluing flakes with the soap is a time-saving trick, because it does away with a separate bluing job. Shake out bath towels before they are quite dry and fold without ironing. Iron pillow cases from the closed end to the hem on both sides. Iron sheets double, folding lengthwise, then crosswise, with the top hem on the outside. If you fold them neatly when taking them from the line there will be fewer wrinkles to iron out. Iron tablecloths first on the wrong side, then on the right side. Iron the lengthwise fold down the center of the cloth, and just fold in the others. Ironed creases do not lie as flat as un-ironed ones on the table.

To give table doilies a satiny, dirt resistant finish starch lightly adding a specially prepared wax-like product to the starch. This wax-like product not only gives a gleaming finish, but it keeps the iron from pulling and sticking. Lay doilies and table mats flat in a drawer or big box, if possible, to keep them smooth.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

And, the opposition is clearly a matter of prejudice, there is slight expectation that it will prevail.

AS A matter of fact, whether Mr. Hopkins selected these two men, or whether Mr. Roosevelt himself selected them, they are good selections and it would be extremely unfortunate if their services were lost through the unreasoning opposition of prejudiced politicians, regardless of the group to which they adhere. Take the case of Mr. Clayton. The only real opposition to Mr. Clayton is due to the fact that he is one of the most successful business men in the United States. But that is enough to make him violently hated by a certain type of extreme radical, to whom Mr. Roosevelt has too often listened and by whom he has been too often swayed.

JUST as Mr. Paruch said that Mr. Clayton was the best-equipped man in the whole United States for the job of surplus products administrator, so he is certainly one of the best equipped in map and manage our vitally important postwar foreign economic policy, which is what he will do in his new post. A man of unquestioned patriotism, of conceded integrity and signal ability, one would think that there would be a unanimous desire to confirm him for the office which he did not seek, does not particularly want but for which his training for many years especially fits him.

AS TO Mr. MacLeish, if confirmed, his duties will be to promote cultural relations between this and other nations and to foster in foreign countries a better understanding of the basic facts of American policy. No one questions that, under State Department direction and control, these are good things to do, and no one who knows him

BETTER STILL, he is a man of character and conviction. It has been intimated that Mr. MacLeish is a Communist—or, at least, a dangerous radical—which, of course, is silly. Undoubtedly he is an "advanced New Dealer" and an avowed "liberal," but he isn't a phony "liberal" nor a stuffy one. It is said that he did not make a success of his job in the old Facts and Figures Administration, but under the conditions as they then were, it is doubtful whether anyone could, and, assuredly, he has made a success as Librarian of Congress. His ability to get along with Congress is attested by the fact that in recent years he has appeared before House and Senate committees many times to ask for appropriations and explain the needs of the library. In one instance, Congress gave him more than he asked; in none did they refuse his request. Perhaps his taste in present-day heroes is somewhat to be deplored, but otherwise it is hard to see why any reasonable man could object to Mr. MacLeish for this particular post.

Several Last Minute Christmas Suggestions

Surprise Ball—Purchase small objects of interest to a child. Wrap in tissue paper and using left over yarn of one color or many colors, start wrapping around the little package. Without breaking off the yarn, add another little package and continue wrapping with the yarn. Continue until you have a large ball with 3-4 little presents. Keep the ball round. Wrap in cellophane or tissue paper. Watch the fun on Xmas morning when "See" must unwind all the yarn to reach her presents.

Hair Bows—For a last minute present for your little girl make 5-6 small hair bows using about 24" lengths of ribbon. Wrap for the Xmas stocking.

Snow Man—Use a large piece of cotton, fold to make a cylinder. Tie a piece of string tight to form the neck. Cut out black eyes, nose, from black felt or paper and paste in position. Red mouth. Make three large red buttons and a 2" circle for the hat. Insert a ribbon at top of head. This makes an interesting ornament for the tree, or may be used as a part of a table decoration.

Yarn Dolls—Make several in matching colors to wear on a lapel—or may be used as curtain pulls in your daughter's room after Xmas.

Lapel Menagerie—Use old wool material or pieces of old felt hat. Cut out and blanket stitch around the edges. Use your ingenuity in applying feathers, buttons and spots. Put safety pin through on the wrong side.

Clothespin Color Pegboard—Materials and tools needed: Block of wood 2"x6"x9", 12 clothespins. Sandpaper, saw, brace and bit, the 6"x9" surface of the block, paint in 6 colors, brushes.

Construction: Bore two rows of six holes each, down the sides of these holes should go only 3/4 of the way through the block and should be large enough to let the clothespins slip in easily. Saw the flare part of the clothespin off. Divide the block for painting. Into six oblongs, each containing two holes. Paint these in six different colors and paint clothespins to match. Use: For use by a child one year to two and one-half years old. Clothespins are put into holes around which are corresponding colors.

Home-Made Bread Easy To Make In Enameled Ware

There's nothing hard about making good, fresh, home-made bread.

If you have a large enameled dishpan in which the dough will have ample room to rise. Try this recipe for bread which will really bring cheers from the family.

Many homemakers have an enameled dishpan just for bread raising.

For cooking oatmeal, use an enameled double boiler and cook 2 1/4 cups of oatmeal in 3 cups of water to make amount called for in recipe.

Oatmeal Bread

(Makes 3 loaves)

2 cakes fresh yeast

3/4 cup lukewarm water

3 cups thick, cooked oatmeal
3 tbsp. melted shortening
2 tsp. sugar
2 tsp. salt
7 cups sifted flour.

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water; mix oatmeal, sugar, salt and shortening together. Add yeast and mix well. Blend in flour. Turn out on floured board and knead 10-15 minutes until elastic. Place in dishpan, cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour and 15 minutes. Shape into three loaves and place in greased bread pans. Cover and let rise until light.

about 50 minutes. Bake in a moderately hot (400 degrees F.) oven about 1 hour.

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS

the College of Home Economics and Sterling by the College of Agriculture in accordance with the plan of the bankers to give financial aid to one 4-H Club girl and one 4-H Club boy entering the State Colleges at Cornell each fall.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

VERY FESTIVE for dinner table or living room candy jar are red Jordan almonds and green Jordan almonds, mixed especially for Christmas. They are to be had in the Snellenburg Candy Dept. (Market St. Store). Moreover, they are the large, tender paper-shell variety. They sell at $1.39 a pound. Use them at home, take as a hostess gift, or send to boys and girls in the Service. (1st fl.)

WHY PAY big prices for books that can be bought in splendid reprints? To me the $1 reprint table in the Snellenburg Book Dept. is a gold mine at Christmastime. Just now it is crowded with hundreds of reprints—and nice ones—that in the original versions cost from $2 to $5. You will find the best of fiction and non-fiction still considered current. To cite only a few—For Whom the Bell Tolls, Dragon Seed, Since You Went Away, Mr. Winkle Goes to War, etc. Among the non-fiction is Grudatolal Diary. Equally famous titles are innumerable. Make a list of your reading friends and stock up! (1st fl.)

MASCULINE IDEA. Lad or man, he'll whoop at sight of a genuine snakeskin belt protruding from his Christmas sock. Difficult to get, but the alert Men's Furnishings Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has some, so hop a train or send an order. Imported reptile skins beautifully marked, excellently crafted and backed with fine smooth leathers. Sizes 32 to 42. Only $2. (1st fl.)

AGAIN the Snellenburg Girls' Dept. has a collection of sweet holiday dresses for dear young ladies seven to fourteen years. Mostly rayons, among them delightful taffetas, the frocks are "dress ups" in high colors. Both demure and semi-sophisticated styles. Each and every one at the grand price of $5.95. Suitable for church, Sunday school, dining out, etc. (2nd fl.)

BUY HIM a famous MacGregor sweater. They are both makes that men like. The Sporting Goods Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has a particularly good Christmas supply even at this late date. These two Scotch namesakes come in both cardigan and pullover styles, and most of them are 100% wool, as you'll see from the labelings. Sizes 36 to 46. Some styles 48 to 52. Plain colors and newest style two-tones. You'll like the high-color snow or ski sweaters. Prices range from $2.95 to $9.95. This Sporting Goods Dept. holds many gifts suitable for men the year around. Look about you while there. (2nd fl.)

IN TIME for Christmas gifting are some nice little black kid D'O'rays and Dutchies (the latter with low heels) now being shown in the Snellenburg Shoe Dept. The medium-heeled D'O'ray has a hard leather sole, the low-heeled Dutchie—a soft one. It doesn't seem possible that the D'O'ray is priced at but $2.24 and the Dutchie at but $2.39. I questioned the price tags, thinking that there had been some mistake! Both styles—D'O'ray house comfort with a capital "C." Sizes 4 to 9. (1st fl.)

IT'S HARD to sell me on a cloth handbag. It was, that is, until I glimpsed the new collection in the glass cases of the Snellenburg Handbag Dept. Tailored in either black or brown broadcloth, they have just the right trimming or catches of artistically-molded lucite. I don't know when I've been so impressed. Prices range from $7.50 to $35.95. The designers have achieved efforts of impossible attainment with leathers. There are severe styles, pouches, and original designs almost out of this world. Girl or woman, gift her with a Snellenburg "broadcloth" and she'll beam! Oh, yes, each of these bags is equipped with a purse and mirror. (1st fl.)

UPSTAIRS OR downstairs or both, you can have one or more gay little Christmas trees that keep from year to year. Buy several at once or add a new one each year. The Snellenburg Garden Corner—noted for its yearly display of Christmas decorations—has, this year, a forest of little white cellophane trees, about 29 inches long, at $1.19 each. Many of the pretty things are being bought to send to the Service boys and girls in this country. And—a tip—this Garden Corner has poinsettias at $2, $3, $4, $5 and upwards. They will be delivered in Philadelphia and nearby suburbs! (1st fl.)

P.S. Shop at this friendly store—Market from 11th to 12th, thru to 1125-29 Chestnut St., Phila. Or order by mail. Or phone free (5c, 10c and 15c out-of-town calls only.) Clippings appreciated. Penna. number, ENTERprise 10160; New Jersey, WX-1150. Cheerily, Faithfully, FAITH.

FARMERS SEE TOUGH YEAR OF PRODUCTION

Food Goals Are Pegged at Top Levels in Face Of Shortages

CROP QUOTAS FIXED

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 14—What may be the toughest production year of the war loomed before Pennsylvania farmers today with food goals pegged at top levels in the face of increasing labor and machinery shortages.

Crop quotas fixed by Federal and State representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency at a recent goals conference in Harrisburg indicated farmers would find no letup in food demands for carrying on the war. The majority were kept at or surpassed last year's record output, while only certain surplus commodities were adjusted downward.

"It looks as if the goals are as high and the handicaps more severe than last year," said Secretary J. A. Smith. "The labor situation is not easing and may become worse."

"The Army is still taking some farm boys," he explained. "And prisoner of war labor is good only in mass production."

Smith said fertilizer would be harder to obtain since large quantities of needed sulphuric acid have been taken by the armed forces. He predicted new machinery would be unavailable.

"Dealers have come to the conclusion that there is no more machinery to be had this season," he said. "The War Production Board has backtracked on its steel allotments since the once apparent nearness of victory has faded somewhat."

A heavy demand for Pennsylvania potatoes has upped prices 20 to 30 cents a hundred pounds according to the State Agriculture Department.

The Bureau of Markets said November rail shipments approximated 463 cars compared with 201 for the same period last year.

Truckers experienced a similar rise in business. Unusually light out-of-State shipments and hold-over stocks from 1943 also helped increase supplies.

In addition, large quantities of U. S. number one grade spuds were being ordered by the armed services.

months were believed by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service to have reached a war time peak but a greater post-war demand for rural acreage was predicted.

The sales volume from March to December this year was held to one-tenth of last year's 20 per cent increase.

Farm lands throughout the nation advanced three per cent during the four months ending November 1st in contrast with a 15 per cent increase last year.

Apple shipments in the State doubled those of 1943 but were light for a heavy yield. The Bureau of Markets reported. D. N. James, Bureau chief, said canners are experiencing a severe loss from early ripening and decay of apples due to excessive rainfall and warm weather.

More Ammunition is Needed!

Gen. Eisenhower is calling for more ammunition for the war in Europe! The Navy wants more ammunition for the Pacific fighting!

Help Produce It

We need more men and women to meet the "stepped-up" demands of the Army and Navy. Help where your help is really needed! Men are needed as handlers and laborers. Women are needed to help on both shifts. Stop in at our new Employment Office.
